

I do not speak on sex because sex has spoken for me since my Birth. Mom and Dad dreamt of a beautiful baby Boy; consumed by ex-Religious prayers and the yellow of Starry Night upon the walls. Cameron. I was to be Named. It feels dirty in my mouth, like the phallicity of everything spoon-fed beside the dining table. Turn on the television, then face the Wrong direction, Dad.

I will see le train de réfléchir qu'on ne peut pas arrêter.

1. [We] are twenty years old. [We] are far too familiar with Sex and Entitlement: it is all that is taboo and it is all that [we] know.
2. Born into a Body of Sex. Consummate.
3. Hyper-vigilant of all actions due to Fear of Sex, therefore, [we] begin to Fear self.
 - a. "Falling Behind" in rotations of hips and drops of sweat: How many Bodies?
 - b. Baby Boy acts like a Boy because He is a Boy and He is Beautiful.
He teases [hits] you because He likes you
 - c. Baby Boy laughs at Baby Boys because they are not Man like Him Pussy. Pussy. Bitch.

[I need not speak of the Feminine Form and how it is utilized in sMothering the masculine. Just look]

With Sex, [we] suffice some, but [we] are fucked to death by numbers of Bodies, high or low.

The Cost of lying cold, naked far beyond the Body, as [you] wait and listen. He comes back to the dark, breathes. Brushes [your] hair, passing ties of semen He graciously forgot. He is Generative, to purify with pleasure [you] do not femininely feel.

4. There is a disconnect. Kor[ai] of Phrasikleia, say the Name of Maker. Inscribe.

Hook-up culture: Fuck me quick, then [we] can go on and forget (freedom).

Appear. Perform. Swipe. Disappear into the skin [you] believe [you] own.

Sex.

Y don't you just make it easier and block me so I don't keep messaging ended bets and it probably doesn't matter to you but everything we ever did in our entire relationship was my first
